

November, 2011

Dear KMEA Members, School Administrators and Friends,

It is with great pride and pleasure that I invite you to join me at the Kentucky Music Educators Association's 2012 Professional Development Conference to be held in Louisville, February 8–11, 2012. This comprehensive event for Kentucky music educators provides a multitude of opportunities for professional development, musical and personal inspiration, and the sharing of ideas.

The 2012 conference will feature performances by Kentucky's finest elementary, middle school and high school ensembles, as well as outstanding university and community groups. Through competitive audition processes, the Kentucky All-State ensembles will showcase the finest student talent in the state, and these students will have the opportunity to work with nationally recognized clinicians as they prepare their performances. Clinic sessions will provide music educators with new ideas and materials to enhance their teaching, and exhibitors will display music, instruments, products and materials for your use. The 2012 conference will have appeal for music educators at all levels.

The opportunity to interact with colleagues from around the state and nation is always one of the highlights of the Professional Development Conference, and this informal aspect of sharing ideas, experiences and encouragement recharges our batteries and helps us continue to improve as teachers.

I encourage you to register early and save. You may register online at our KMEA website (www.kmea.org/conference), or through the form included in this brochure. I look forward to seeing you in Louisville next February!

Sincerely,

David Dunevant, President

2012 Keynote Speaker

Dr. Tim Lautzenheiser

Friday, February 10, 2012

9:45 am

Tim Lautzenheiser is a trusted friend to anyone interested in working with young people in developing a desire for excellence and a passion for high level achievement. His career involves ten years of successful college band directing at Northern Michigan University, the University of Missouri, and New Mexico State University.

Following his tenure at the university level, he spent three years with McCormick's Enterprises working as Executive Director of Bands of America. In 1981, Tim created Attitude Concepts for Today, Inc., an organization designed to manage the many requests for workshops, seminars, and convention speaking engagements focusing on the area of positive attitude and effective leadership training. Over two million students have experienced his acclaimed student leadership workshops over the last three decades.

He presently serves as Vice President of Education for Conn-Selmer, Inc. In addition, he continues his rigorous travel schedule touting the importance of arts education for every child.

His books, produced by G.I.A. Publications, Inc., continue to be bestsellers in the educational world. He is also co-author of popular band method, Essential Elements, and is the Senior Educational Consultant for Hal Leonard, Inc. Tim is the Senior Educational Advisor for Music for All, and NAMM (The International Music Products Association).

Tim holds degrees from Ball State University and the University of Alabama; in 1995 he was awarded an Honorary Doctorate from the VanderCook College of Music. He is presently an adjunct faculty member at: Ball State University (Earl Dunn Distinguished Lecturer), Indiana-Purdue/Ft. Wayne University, and Butler University. In addition, he serves on the Midwest Clinic Board of Directors and the Western International Band Clinic/American Band College Board of Directors.
